Appendix 3 –Planning Expectations

Literacy units of work are planned around a quality text using some of the Talk for Writing principles and fully aligned to National Curriculum Programmes of Study.

In Years 1-6 the children are set according to their ability.

- We carry out the curriculum planning in English in three phases (long-term, medium-term and short-term). The National Curriculum details what we teach in the long-term.
- Our medium-term plans, give details of the main teaching objectives for each term. These plans define what we teach, and ensure an appropriate balance and distribution of work across each term. The subject leader is responsible for monitoring and reviewing these plans.
- Class teachers complete a weekly (short-term) plan for the teaching of Literacy. This lists the specific learning objectives and expected outcomes for each lesson, and gives details of how the lessons are to be taught. It also includes details of what each group of children will be learning. The class teacher keeps these individual plans, and the class teacher and subject leader may discuss them on an informal basis.
- We plan the activities in English so that they build on the children's prior learning. We give children of all abilities the opportunity to develop their skills, knowledge and understanding by using an A4L teaching approach in all lessons.

Homework is set in accordance with whole school guidance as outlined in Homework Policy.

Appendix 4 -The Teaching and Learning of English

The English curriculum is delivered within a stimulating, language rich environment where Assessment for Learning techniques are used as the primary approaches to differentiation, assessment and teaching. Live marking/feedback is incorporated into lessons to promote quality learning through which children are motivated to achieve success.

English is taught in a variety of ways including:

- Direction
- Demonstration
- Modelling
- Scaffolding
- Explanation
- Targeted questioning
- Initiating and guiding exploration
- Discussing and challenging ideas generated by the children
- Listening and responding to children in a sensitive and supporting manner, discussing and evaluating children's successes.

In addition, with specific reference to English, teachers will:

- have a clear understanding of the objectives being taught, openly sharing these and, when appropriate, Success Criteria with the children at the beginning of lessons and reflecting upon them within the lesson and again at the end
- plan for well-paced lessons which drive learning forward, using quality texts for teaching as their basis
- consider the opportunities for developing English skills across the curriculum
- be mindful of the literacy needs of the child in all subject areas, and differentiate questions and activities to allow all children access.

All children in our school will have full access to English on a daily basis. Any Additional support or intervention that is required will take place either during the independent session of the hour, allowing the child to benefit from the rich literacy environment, or at other times during the school day as appropriate.

Any intervention or other individual programmes will be linked, where appropriate, to the suitable objectives from the National Curriculum and targets set out on individual EHC plans.

The Foundation Stage

We teach English in Reception classes as an integral part of the school's work. The format for the daily lesson is similar to that used in the rest of the school. As the reception class is part of the Foundation Stage of the National Curriculum, we relate the English aspects of the children's work to the objectives set out in the Early Learning Goals, which underpin the curriculum planning for children aged three to five. We give all children the opportunity to talk and communicate in a widening range of situations, to respond to adults and to each other, to listen carefully, and to practise and extend their vocabulary and communication skills. They have the opportunity to explore words and texts, to enjoy them, to learn about them, and to use them in various situations.

Appendix 5 -Classroom/Outdoor Learning

The teachers will ensure that:

- the classroom layout and outdoor environment is stimulating
- there is continuous free flow to the outdoor areas
- a Learning Wall provides relevant prompts for the children for the current unit of work. E.g. relevant vocabulary { see Raising Standards document for more detail}.
- displays reflect the whole curriculum, but all maximise potential for language development
- the tables in the classroom are usually arranged to facilitate; an individual quiet study, group work, whole class work.

Each classroom has its own book area with easy access to a computer.

Appendix 6- Live Feedback/Marking

The staff acknowledge that responses should be supportive to promote self esteem and encourage development. Therefore we:

- respond in open dialogue about pupils' work and progress
- use some Marking Codes and coloured highlighting to provide the children with relevant feedback –see Feedback Policy
- display children's work in a manner demonstrating teacher's valuing of pupils efforts
- encourage children to present their 'offerings' to a wider audience, e.g. other staff, children, parents and visitors to the school.

Appendix 7- Cross curricular Links

The skills that children develop in English are linked to, and applied in, every subject of our curriculum. The children's skills in reading, writing, speaking and listening enable them to communicate and express themselves in all areas of their work at school.

Mathematics

The teaching of English contributes significantly to children's mathematical understanding, in a variety of ways. Children in the Foundation Stage develop their understanding of number, pattern, shape and space by talking about these matters with adults and other children. Children in Key Stage 1 meet stories and rhymes that involve counting and sequencing. Children in Key Stage 2 are encouraged to read and interpret problems, in order to identify the mathematics involved. They explain and present their work to others during plenary sessions, and they communicate mathematically through the developing use of precise mathematical language.

Personal, social and health education (PSHCE) and citizenship

English contributes to the teaching of PSHE and citizenship by encouraging children to take part in class and group discussions on topical issues. Older children also research and debate topical problems and events. They discuss lifestyle choices, and meet and talk with visitors who work within the school community. Planned activities within the classroom also encourage children to work together and to respect each other's views.

Spiritual, moral, social and cultural development

The teaching of English develops skills through which our children can offer critical responses to the moral questions they meet in their work. Their understanding and appreciation of a range of texts bring them into contact with their own literary heritage and with texts from a diverse range of cultures. The organisation of our lessons allows children to work together, and gives them the chance to discuss their ideas and results.

Computing

The use of ICT, with clear learning objectives, will promote, enhance and support the teaching of English at word, sentence and text levels. It also offers ways of impacting on learning which are not possible with conventional methods, e.g. interactive stories. ICT is used at whole-class, group and independent levels. The screen projection of text enables it to be read and shared. The projection of a word processor permits the writing process to be modelled effectively. A wide variety of text types are available through the Internet to encourage the framing of explicit questions. Software is used to support independent reading (text to speech) and writing (predictive word processors, word banks and spell checkers). A range of software is used to develop specific grammatical and spelling skills. Lessons can focus on what pupils have achieved using ICT, or ICT can provide the means of presenting their outcomes (via multimedia presentation or the school website).

Promoting British Values

The staff will ensure that through the teaching of English they will actively promote the fundamental British values of:

Democracy– respect for and participation in the democratic process

Rule of Law- respect for the laws of England

Equality– equality of opportunity for all

Liberty– respect for the liberties of all

Tolerance– respect for ad tolerance of different faiths and religious beliefs.

Use of Local/Global Environment

The staff take every opportunity to develop children's knowledge and concern regarding environmental issues through the whole school curriculum.

Such experiences are used to stimulate children to write, speak and read. New experiences, which visits may offer, can generate a sense of awe and wonder.

Spiritual Development

At Westmoor Primary School, we aim to deliver the whole curriculum in a way which provides our children with opportunities for exploration, questioning and reflection. In particular, English provides many opportunities to develop open ended and thought provoking situations to enable children to develop the skills of thinking beyond the literal, nurturing sound relations and principles.

Appendix 8- Equal Opportunities

This school believes that every pupil is of equal value and has the right to equal education opportunities, irrespective of age, ability, race, creed and gender; therefore we help all our children to:

- access the whole curriculum with respect to English/Language skills in reading,
- writing, speaking/listening through the provision of appropriate texts and
- additional outside support being requested as necessary

Find out about different cultures and groups as well as challenge prejudices and stereotypes.

Cultural Recognition

The staff recognises that the diversity of cultural contributions influences current planning and practise, therefore ethnic minority interests and issues are addressed throughout Literacy. Steps are taken to promote cultural diversity and celebrate difference and the school takes steps to ensure that resources in all areas of Literacy are inclusive.

Special Educational Needs and Disability

Learning difficulties are assessed by the class teacher and SENCO where appropriate. Where possible, targeted children work in smaller groups with the support of the classroom assistant and with appropriate learning prompts and resources as identified on individual EHCs.

Appendix 9- Assessment and Monitoring

At Westmoor Primary School, assessment of children's work is used to inform planning for the future and thus ensure pupils' progress. All children are assessed in both reading and writing using a range of formal and informal methods. The school keeps a sample of assessed and moderated work to ensure standards are maintained.

Assessment is in line with the whole school policy (see assessment policy for processes and proformas).

Monitoring

The English curriculum, planning, delivery and attainment is monitored by the Co-ordinator through:

- Regular planning scrutinies.
- Half termly work scrutinies.
- Literacy Walks
- Lesson observations
- Auditing and updating resources.
- Compiling a Literacy file noting courses attended, training delivered, staff meetings etc.
- Analysis of SAT papers to identify key issues.

Appendix 10 -Parental Involvement and Community Relations

The staff believe that it is beneficial to promote links between the school and the wider community. We therefore encourage:

- parents to take an active partnership role in education through e.g. the development of home school reading programmes
- appropriate parental assistance and sharing of expertise in classroom/on visits and in promoting extra- curricular activities
- good relationships between the young and old people of the community through joint activities; school fairs, invitations to concerts etc
- visits from authors, poets and drama companies to perform for/work with pupils
- special activities e.g. Book Week, World Book Day, Shakespeare's birthday.

Time

Financial

A significant contribution is devolved to English each year from the School Budget Share. Decisions made in devolving the budget are made in collaboration with the Governors, Deputy Head teacher and Staff. This budget is supplemented with money raised by parents to purchase books and other resources, e.g. computer software.

Developing and Monitoring of the English Curriculum

To ensure the coherence and progress of the development of English in this school the monitoring of the curriculum is recognised as an essential element.

Time is allocated to allow the English Co-ordinator to do this as well as assisting with planning, updating the school's policy , SDP, SEF and the literacy action plan.

The co-ordinator also assists teachers by leading staff meetings, planning and leading Inset activities, providing consultancy and advice, also by supporting them in the classroom. This is all done in collaboration with the Head teacher.

In addition, as a result of monitoring, the Co-ordinator will make appropriate arrangements for staff development.
